

Bringing the Power of the Performing Arts to Everyone

16 Performances with Stage Stars to Watch Today, April 16

By RAVEN SNOOK

THU APR 16, 2020 ·

At 7 p.m. EST, see a show that was specifically written to be performed remotely as regional troupe Penn State Centre Stage presents Streaming Passion, a comedic show within a show about the Passion Play being rehearsed via Zoom because of COVID-19. The brainchild of NYC-based playwright Marc Palmieri (whom we've interviewed multiple times in the past), the play just may be the first full-length work written for our new surreality. Watch the live-stream for free on Penn State's website.